

BY ENROLLING INTO CLASSES AT INSPIRE MUSIC SCHOOL YOU ARE AGREEING TO ADHERE TO THE SCHOOLS POLICIES IN FULL

Practice

1. All students are to fill out their practice logs as they practice. This is not to be done during lessons and please do not include your lessons in your practice totals as it is not independent practice.
2. Failure to practice at home will mean falling behind the pace of the class and may prevent the student from progressing.
3. Students or parents of students who are struggling to practice should speak to the teacher in person. All reasons for not practicing will be taken into account and your teacher will provide help to resolve and improve the practice at home.
4. The above policies are expected to be followed by all our students. They exist to ensure that everyone enjoys playing their instrument, and that everyone receives the most from their lessons.

Lateness

1. Students are aware of their lesson times and are responsible for arriving promptly ready for their classes. Should a student arrive late, they are to ring the bell once and wait patiently to be let in. Out of fairness to those in the class that have arrived on time the teacher will have to wait for an appropriate time to let in any latecomers so as to not disrupt the flow of the current class regardless of how late they may be or the reason. Those who arrive significantly late may not be allowed to participate in their class. The significance of the lateness will be determined by the teacher who will already be teaching a class.
